Estudos de Psicologia

Campinas

I hereby submit this article for evaluation and possible publication in the Revista Estudos de Psicologia (Campinas), noting that the main contribution of the study to the area in which it is inserted is the following:

Write a paragraph justifying why the journal should publish your article, pointing out its scientific relevance, and its contribution to the discussions of the area to which it belongs, the point(s) that characterizes its originality and the consequent potential to be cited.

Given the competence of the study area, I indicate the name of the following (three) researchers that may act as reviewers of the manuscript. I also declare that there is no conflict of interests for this indication.

Authors should indicate three possible reviewers for the manuscript, with their e-mails and the institutions to which they are attached.

The article is originated from:

- ☐ Dissertations or theses.
- ☐ Authors' institutional research project, with or without funding.
- ☐ Other type of research, which? _____.

I further confirm that:

- (1) manuscript is original and is not currently (nor will it be) being considered for publication elsewhere, whether in print or electronic format, while it is under consideration for publication in the Revista Estudos de Psicologia (Campinas). This manuscript has not been published before in any another medium, in whole or in part, nor has another one with substantially similar content been published under my/our authorship. All data in the article are truthful and authentic;

- (2) I/we certify that each author participated sufficiently in the study conception or design to take public responsibility for its content, and that any personal relationship or financing agreements with companies that that might lead to a conflict of interest have been acknowledged or disclosed. All contributors to this study who did not meet the criteria for authorship were listed in the 'Acknowledgments' section, and all of them gave a written permission to be acknowledged;
- (3) I/we declare that there are no potential conflicts of interest associated with this publication or that could have an effect on this research, and that the financial support received for the conduct of the research has been noted in the Acknowledgments. I/we also agree to be involved in the peer-review process, when requested by this Journal;
- (4) I/we declare that the ethical principles for research on humans and/or animals have been respected in accordance with Resolution n° 196/1996, Resolution n° 510/2016, and Law n° 994/2008. All documents or relevant information related to the compliance with ethical principles are attached together with the manuscript, and a clear statement confirming the approval by the Research Ethics Committee is included in the 'Methods' section;
- (5) I/we warrant that the data presented in the article do not represent any form of research misconduct, such as: fabrication, improper use of images (tables, graphs, pictures, scales, drawings, schematics, charts, instruments, questionnaires, validation of methodologies, and other types of illustrations), falsification, plagiarism, auto-plagiarism or duplicate publication, and that I am/we are the sole author and owner of the copyright in this article. I am/we are aware that if any third-party material is included in the article, a written permission from the owner to reproduce it is required. I/we further warrant that nothing in the submitted manuscript infringes any existing copyright or other third-party intellectual property rights, otherwise I/we would be held fully responsible or accountable for any damage caused to third parties, in the administrative and judicial spheres, under the strict liability Law n° 9.610/98;

(6) I/we accept the terms of the Copyright License agreement and agree to abide by the Public Access Policy adopted by the Revista Estudos de Psicologia (Campinas), which incorporates the Creative Commons License - CC BY, which allows users to distribute, remix, tweak, and build upon my/our work, even for commercial purposes, as long as they credit the author for the original creation. Therefore, I/we grant the journal right of first publication, with an acknowledgement of the work's authorship and initial publication in this journal.

(7) I/we are aware that upon acceptance for publication, the authors may be invited to have the article translated into English. If that is the case, I/we agree that the costs of the translation/revision services will be under the authors' responsibility, and also that these services must be done by one of the professionals in the list of authorized professional translators provided by the journal.
