

Model: Declaration of Acknowledgement of REBEn's Instructions to Authors

We declare that we acknowledge REBEn's instructions to authors and are aware that if these guidelines are not observed, the article will be automatically returned, and that the submission fee will not be refunded, since editing services start with manuscript verification.

We are aware that both submission of the original article and rewritten or revised article must be done through the electronic system.

We guarantee that, if the manuscript is approved, we will wait until the editing and production of the final version have been completed to produce the English translation with companies recommended by the magazine. We are aware that the financial cost of the translation is the responsibility of the authors.

Date: __/ __/ ____.
